

Conclusion: This mixed-method study, while quantitative data provide a more general understanding of the current clinical mentoring procedures of student nurses at the operating rooms of National Hospital Kandy, qualitative data provide a detailed understanding of the same problem by exploring their perspectives. Therefore, this study provides the deeper understanding of the current clinical mentoring procedures of student nurses at the operating rooms.

Key Words: "Current practice", "Experience", "Nurse", "Nursing Student", "Nursing Tutor", "Clinical Mentoring", "Operating Room" and Operating Theaters".